PresenterNet Launches Industry's First Mobile Web Conferencing

San Clemente, CA—PresenterNet (www.presenternet.com), provider of online interactive Web presentation applications, today launched PresenterNet Mobile Edition, the industry's first mobile Web Conferencing application.

The new mobile application enables users to present from anywhere using only a PC or a Windows Mobile 5.0 enabled phone or PDA.

Presenting with PresenterNet Mobile Edition from an off-site location, PresenterNet CEO Doug Wolfgram explained, "We realize that a large percentage of Web Conferencing users are also mobile professionals. In many cases, they cannot be in their offices when they need to conference using online media. This new application gives them total flexibility."

Wolfgram further explained that PresenterNet's experience with Ajax technology and its Web 2.0 implementation enabled this Web Application to run on Windows Mobile.
